"Why Do We Send Missionaries?"

Part 3: The Distinction between "Evangelism" and "Mission"

Watch Part 3: Evangelism vs. Missions

Video Discussion Questions

1. Have you heard the thinking that "everything is missions and everyone is a missionary"? If so, how has that thinking impacted yours and others' views on missions and being a missionary?
2. How have you seen the good, bad and ugly of the thinking, "This is your mission field"?
3. How does this thinking affect our ability to prioritize our missions going and sending?
4. How does this thinking reduce the urgency of the gospel globally?
5. How does defining evangelism and missions help you answer the question, "Why should we send missionaries around the world when we have lost people across the street?"
6. How can you help prioritize missions without minimizing the importance of evangelism?
7. What work do you and your church have left to do in your region?
8. How would every person have the gospel if every people group has a church?
9. How can local evangelism and global missions work together to compliment each other rather than being in competition?
